How to check your immunisation information settings in My Health Record

You can decide what Medicare information you want to include in your My Health Record and start sharing your information with your treating healthcare providers.

1. Log into My Health Record through myGov.

   > If you have never accessed your record, you need to have a myGov account and link it to your record. Search online for: Log in to My Health Record to find out more.

2. Click on your name to open your record.

3. From the Profile & Settings tab, select Medicare Information Settings.

4. Make sure Yes is selected for 'All information about immunisations recorded on the Australian Immunisation Register (AIR). This lets you and your treating healthcare providers see your immunisation information.

5. Check the other settings on this page and update if you wish.

6. Press Save.

   > Check your Immunisations page (from the Documents tab). It may take a few minutes for the information to flow into your record from the Australian Immunisation Register.
